

Cures Baldness

Prevents Hair Falling Out, Removes Dandruff, Stops Itching and Restores Luxuriant Growth to Shining Scalp, Eyebrows and Eyelashes.

A TRIAL PACKAGE FREE.

THE ABOVE CUTS PLAINLY SHOW FOR THEMSELVES WHAT THE REMEDY WILL DO.

The remedy has cured thousands, and no one need fear that it is harmful. We do not ask you to take our word for it or any one else's. Send for the free trial and let the remedy itself tell you what this wonderful remedy actually does.

The remedy also cures itching and dandruff, cures signs of approaching baldness, and keeps the scalp healthy and vigorous. It also restores gray hair to natural color, and produces thick and lustrous eyebrows and eyelashes. By sending your name and address to the Allenholm Medical Dispensary, 200 Butterfield Building, Cincinnati, O., enclosing a 2-cent stamp to cover postage, they will mail you, promptly, a free trial of their remarkable remedy.

KIDNAPED THE STAR ACTRESS.

Mexican Opera Company Loses Its Chief Attraction.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 22.—A dispatch from Chihuahua, Mexico, this afternoon, says: The greatest sensation of the season came to light here yesterday, when it was discovered that Senorita Columbia Quintana, the star actress in the company of the Mexican Opera Company, had been kidnapped, either for ransom or criminal purposes.

She was missed from the company's hotel, and search disclosed that she had been abducted by Juan Tapis, the proprietor of a resort, and imprisoned in a room.

The matter was reported to the police, who went for the girl, but were refused admission by Juan. An extra force was called, and Juan was arrested and the girl rescued.

The company's infantile is a high-class opera company, which was to play a week's engagement here. Senorita Columbia was the star of the company, and her absence almost broke the company's engagements. She is barely 15 years old and extremely beautiful. When discovered, the girl was frightened almost out of her wits.

Alleged Illegal Timber Cutting.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Monett, Mo., Feb. 22.—Density United States Marshal George Wilkinson of Springfield, Mo., arrived here this morning almost broke the company's engagements. She is barely 15 years old and extremely beautiful. When discovered, the girl was frightened almost out of her wits.

He was arrested at the door of his home. Mr. Wilkinson was appointed Consul to Hong-Kong in 1887, and a year later, about the time of the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, was made Consul General. He gave valuable assistance to Admiral Dewey, both preceding and following the battle of Manila, and, of course, was at all times in danger of death from Spanish enemies.

At the close of the Spanish-American War, he was appointed Consul General of the Philippines in February, 1898, and was again exposed to danger because of the animosity of Aguinaldo, the Philippine leader, who made that previous to Dewey's descent upon Manila, the American Consul General, who was Governor of Mississippi and Senator from that State. Mr. Wilkinson's brother is Edwin Wilkinson, a well-known writer.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

PATHETIC FATE OF CONSUL WILDMAN.

After Escaping Danger as a Central Figure in Two Foreign Wars, He Died in Sight of His Native Land.

CONSUL GENERAL WILDMAN.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Feb. 22.—There is no hope in the State Department that Consul General Wilkinson or any of his family was saved in the wreck of the steamer Rio Janeiro just outside Golden Gate.

It is thought certain that all of them were lost at the moment when, after an absence of nearly four years, they were on the threshold of home.

For nearly three years he has been in the midst of war, and assassins have been close to his elbow.

Yet no harm came to him, and it was only when he was in sight of the land of his birth that death overtook him and his. His end is as pathetic as that of a soldier, who, escaping death in mad battles, reckless charges and sickly camps, is killed by an accident at the door of his home.

The Nerves of Women

To Nervous Women.

"I feel as if I should fly into a thousand pieces!" "I just can't stand it another minute!" Do you ever make use of these expressions? "Why, yes," you say. "I'm nervous and unstrung, and I can't help it." Do you know what makes you so nervous? "Oh, everything! I don't know and I don't care what it is. I wish I was dead!" STOP and listen.

People do not sympathize with you, do they? They think you can help getting wrought up in this way, if you will. They tell you to "keep cool;" not to "lose your head;" to "calm yourself;" to "avoid excitement." They will not understand that you are sick, and that you really "can't help it." You do not know yourself just what the trouble is. You have been to your doctor, but his medicine has had no effect. Every day you get more nervous. You are almost beside yourself with every small responsibility and can see no way out of it.

Why don't you write to Mrs. Pinkham? Has it occurred to you that the pains you have every month and the dragging sensation are caused by the same trouble that makes you nervous? Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted writing to her, and she has helped thousands. Her medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is the true help for nervous women. It regulates the monthly sickness and overcomes all those uterine derangements that excite the nerves. This is the easy and the right way to get the help you need. Read the letters from women she has helped.

When you ask for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine at your druggist's, do not be persuaded to take something else said to be "just as good." Nothing in the world is so good for women's ills as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

$5000 REWARD

Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonials, we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonials are not genuine, or were published without obtaining the writers' special permission.—LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

A Few Letters from Women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot help but feel that it is my duty to do something in regard to recommending your wonderful medicine. I must say it is the greatest medicine on earth, and have advised a great many suffering with female troubles to take it. I tell people I wish I could go on the platform and lecture on it. "My trouble was extreme nervousness caused by painful menstruation. This suffering I endured for years. I was treated by one of our most prominent physicians here for five months and found myself getting worse instead of better. At the end of the fifth month he told me he had done all he could for me, and that I had better go to the hospital. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her of backaches. I did so and took it faithfully, and am now cured of my trouble and in perfect health. Many thanks to your medicine."—MRS. H. S. BALL, 461 Orchard St., New Haven, Conn.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For years I had ovarian trouble and suffered everything from nervousness, severe headache, and pain in back and abdomen. I had consulted different physicians, but decided to try your medicine, and I soon found it was giving me much relief. I continued its use and now am feeling like a new person, physically and mentally, and am glad to add one more testimonial to the value of your remedy."—MRS. M. H. LEWIS, 2108 Valentine Ave., Tremont, New York, N. Y.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Words cannot express my gratitude to you for the good I have derived from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since the birth of my babe, no one can know. I had severe pains in lower part of abdomen and such a soreness in my left side. My womb was so swollen as to almost protrude. I was very weak and nervous, and could hardly care for my babe. "I have taken two bottles of your Vegetable Compound and feel almost like a new woman. I shall always praise your medicine and wish that every woman in the land could know of and use your Vegetable Compound, for I know it will cure all suffering women of our sex."—MRS. M. M. BOYD, La Due, Mo.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with female weakness for years, and was hardly able to do anything. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved a great help to me. I am now able to do a hard day's work. "I keep your medicine in the house all the time and recommend it to every woman I know who suffers with any female troubles."—MRS. LOUISA BETZ, 147 Beech Street, Pottstown, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For a long time, I have suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen, and bearing down feeling. Was very nervous, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good your Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply wonderful. After taking four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using three packages of Sanative Wash, I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow-sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering."—MRS. HENRY DORR, 806 Findley Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonials, we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonials are not genuine, or were published without obtaining the writers' special permission.—LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

REMAINS OF ARTIST HARRIS INTERRED.

Young American Who Killed Himself in Paris and Nearly Filled an Unknown Grave.

FAME AND FORTUNE NOT HIS.

Pathetic Story of Young Illinois Man Who Was Too Proud to Be Dependent on Relatives.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be commanded by a wealthy and indulgent father, with unquestioned artistic talent, he was unable to reconcile his restless spirit with the quiet life of a resident of a small city of the Prairie State. His spirit rebelled at the thought of being dependent upon his father's fortune, and at the age of 29 he struck out into the world to make his fame and fortune or to sink in the attempt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The remains of Thomas L. Harris, the American artist who ended his life by suicide in Paris, France, on January 12 last, were laid to rest in the little cemetery at Petersburg, Mead County, this afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, C. R. Lanning, one of the most widely known men in Central Illinois. The attendance was large, including relatives and friends of the unfortunate young man from Jacksonville, Springfield, Virginia and other points throughout this portion of the State.

The story of young Harris' short life is a peculiarly sad one. Born of a prominent and honored family, and all the luxuries to be